

Telephone Advice Line

Educational Psychology Service

01872 322888

Open on Wednesday afternoons from 2:00 pm until 5:00 pm

The Educational Psychology Service has a new confidential telephone advice line for parents/carers and professionals to talk about any concerns they have for their child in regard to special educational needs, disabilities or emotional health and wellbeing. The advice line will be answered by an experienced educational psychologist. However if you know the name of the educational psychologist who is already working with your child you may want to contact them directly.

We aim to provide:

- quick and easy access to professional advice
- a listening ear
- working together to find solutions
- signposting to other services if appropriate